HOTEL & GOLF RESORT

—TOSCANA—

- Surrounded by olive groves and tall cypresses, the English Keith Preston 1999 is one of the most enchanting golf camps of Italy. Situated on the green hills of the Tuscan Maremma, this path is characterized by spectacular views. This golf course respects the international standards and in 2003 was nominated as one of the 10 best new golf courses thanks to its 18 golf holes and 71 pars. The different types of green require dexterity, adaptability and concentration. In the Championship Course both professionals and amateurs games are played together with international competitions as the Nick Faldo Series Italy Championship.

- The course represents a perfect challenge both for experts and beginners players. The wonderful Tuscan panorama together with the enjoyable climate which allows to play the whole year, makes this golf course a unique experience. The course isn't big, but require a very precise game, since the many water obstacles can punish mistakes cruelly. The greens are characterized by many curves and are extremely difficult to distinguish. Many outs and the Rough double blade shaving makes the game more hard and require a deeper concentration. Prepare yourself to an extremely exciting golf game!
